Tune to WEMI (91.9) every Sunday, 8:55 A.M. & P.M. for weekly mission updates.

LIBERIA

I recently returned from Liberia, West Africa, where I met with four of our project directors in Monrovia and different parts of the country.

Prices continue to rise, making life very difficult for the general public. I was sad to see so many hungry faces and people not working.

I visited Ralph Gelego at My Brothers Keepers Orphanage and Vocational School. Ralph runs the orphanage, elementary, and vocational school. While visiting, we were able to work with troops from UNMIL (United Nations Mission in Liberia) to install a fence with razor wire around the entire 10-acre plot. They did a great job. The compound looks very proper and is now safe for the children. We still need to purchase a large generator for the electric service and get water hooked up to the buildings.

Momo Cole of Harvest Time Ministries continues to work with the local churches and has distributed clothes, shoes, and various supplies to different groups to help the poor and needy.

Pastor Paasewe and I traveled to some extreme rural areas of Liberia to visit clinics and visit with church and village leaders to see what needs should be addressed. He is doing a great job evangelizing in rural areas, where he is reaching many with the Gospel and meeting their needs.

I also visited with Pastor Emmanuel Gyamfi of New Community Clinic and spoke at his church in the outskirts of Monrovia. I was able to take photos of their pharmaceuticals. He provided me with a list of the numbers of persons treated and the various treatments needed. This information will help in planning for future needs of the local villages.

We recently sent a 40-foot container of plywood to Liberia along with 15,000 pounds of beans to assist the poor in the country. The WORLD FOOD CRISIS is very evident in Liberia.

The building supplies will assist churches and housing within the country.

It's only through your generous donations that allow us to help so many needy folks. May God continue to meet and prosper your affairs and grant divine health to each of you. ❖
